

INTERNAL MEDICINE RESIDENCY PROGRAM DIRECTOR

Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine

Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine (NSU-COM) is seeking a director for its Internal Medicine Residency Program located at one of its major teaching affiliates in Broward County. The appropriate candidate should be an osteopathic physician who is board certified in internal medicine and has at least three years of internal medicine or related subspecialty practice. Some prior teaching experience in a postdoctoral training program or as a faculty member at a medical school would be desirable. The applicant's professional background should also reflect leadership ability as well as evidence of clinical and administrative competency and excellent interpersonal skills. In this full-time position, the director will be eligible for an academic appointment at the assistant/associate professor level. A Florida license or eligibility for licensure in the state of Florida is required.

NSU-COM is currently ranked as the 11th largest medical school and the 4th largest osteopathic medical school in the nation. NSU is the largest independent not-for-profit university in the Southeast and the 6th largest nationally. For more information about NSU's College of Osteopathic Medicine, please visit <http://medicine.nova.edu>.

Competitive salary and an excellent benefit program are offered. Interested persons should forward their curriculum vitae with cover letter and three letters of reference to: Lawrence E. Jacobson, D.O., Vice Dean, NSU College of Osteopathic Medicine, Suite 1401/Terry Building, 3200 South University Drive, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33328-2018. Phone: (954) 262-1405. Email: ljacobos@nsu.nova.edu.

NSU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.